Lunch consisted of steamed vegetables, mashed potato and beef. MR G stormed out of his room with the plate in his hand and was angry. I asked MR G if he was okay. MR G stated that he was angry at the quality of the food. MR G and I then went downstairs as he wanted to speak to the chef. I went into the lift with MR G attempting to calm him down. MR G then excited the lift and became verbally aggressive towards Jean (business manager). Jean eventually took his food away from him and gave it to the chef. I escorted MR G back to his room for him to calm down. Alternative food options were provided. The chef was notified of MR G displeasure with the food and wanted to hand MR G a sandwich for lunch. Kate (Clinical Psychologist) informed the chef not to go into MR G room and for the chef to hand the 1:1 the sandwich. • Behaviour - observed behaviour: MR G was very verbally aggressive and made threats of physical aggression towards the chef. MR G threatened to grab a knife from the kitchen and to 'hurt' the chef. MR G repeatedly stated that 'this place food is like school dinners and not proper food'. MR G further threatened not to return after his home visit over the weekend. • Consequence - event / activity that happened immediately after the observed behaviour: MR G handed Jean the plate of food. MR G then went back upstairs to his room and went to calm down. An alternative lunch was provided. Psych team attempted to check in with MR G mood but he was asleep. Informed 1:1 to come and grab a member of the psych team if he wakes up again. • behaviour (purpose / reason / outcome of the behaviour) - Select all applicable: Attention (To gain social reinforcement/attention from interacting with someone), Other (please detail) • Please describe: MR G was angry at the quality of the food and reported that he could cook better than the lunch he was served.

They said he had been downstairs and then come back up. Lunch had just been served. Later when I spoke to Mr G he said he had had a phone call with his wife and she was unsure about moving into the new house before the behaviour was observed. He also said he didn't like the food or the new chef he said it looks like a school dinner and is "for children". Stuart and Suzanne said he had come downstairs before I saw him and shouted about the food, they said he shouted at the chef. Stuart said the chef had spoken to him and touched his shoulder and Mr G's jaw and clenched. Behaviour - observed behaviour: I could hear Mr G shouting as I approached his room. I observed Mr G standing by the window in the hall outside his room holding up his fist. He shouted at the window, "I don't want support workers." Consequence - event / activity that happened immediately after the observed behaviour: I said to Mr G from a distance, "Mr G, are you ok?" He looked at me but didn't say anything, he went into his room and closed the door. I was on my way into a meeting with his case manager so I had not stayed long. His support worker stayed outside his room and Mr G had time in his room on his own. The support worker said he had napped. Mr G later confirmed he had napped as well and when he woke up he was calmer. I spoke to the chef and explained Mr G's brain injury and impulsive responding. I informed him not to touch Mr G when he is agitated and to step away if Mr G threatens him and allow someone Mr G can speak to calmly to step in and communicate with Mr G. Mr G was shouting that a carer had given him two pink tablets last night when he had already had his medication. • Behaviour - observed behaviour: Mr G was shouting, swearing and making verbal threats against the night nurse and night carer. Mr G said "if I see them again, I will shove the medication down their necks" "I will Fing hit them. Mr G's fists were clenched. Mr G walked over to a window on the GF corridor and said this is what I will do, he clenched his fist and aimed it at the window but did not strike it. • Consequence - event / activity that happened immediately after the observed behaviour: I advised Mr G that we should look into what happened with his medication last night together. Mr G was unable to recall any events from the previous night that may have led to him being given "Extra Medication" I read Mr G the x 2 ABC records from the night shift recorded at 9.30pm and just after 11pm that stated that Mr G was very agitated, had broken a mug and had punched a cupboard. I advised Mr G that the x2 pink tablets were his PRN medication that is used to support him in times of distress and asked Mr G if he had any recollection of the previous night s events? Mr G said he did and apologised for his behaviour. Mr G advised that he is feeling very frustrated that he is being delayed in going home to be with his family. Reassured Mr G that it was okay to feel frustrated and Angry, but reminded him of the strategies in place to support him when he is feeling this way. Mr G asked questions around what is causing the delay and I spent some time explaining to Mr G about the legal issues with his community dols application. Mr G received this information well, when I informed him of all the collective measures being taken by his team to progress this. Mr G thanked me for my time and said he was going to his room to relax for a while. • Possible function of the behaviour (purpose / reason / outcome of the behaviour) - Select all applicable: Not sure

Mr G received the remainder of his weekly allowance of £60. Mr G was telling me about his plans for his upcoming home visit today. Myself and Stella were present. • Behaviour - observed behaviour: As Mr G was preparing to leave Enable Care, Mr G informed me that he does not feel like coming back to Enable Care after his planned home visit. • Consequence - event / activity that happened immediately after the observed behaviour: I asked Mr G what he meant by this statement. Mr G informed me that he just wants to be at home with his family. Mr G informed me that he is aware that he should come back to 1SC and said that we would miss him to much, but that he is fed up of waiting and this is why he made the statement that he does not feel like coming back to 1SC. I reminded Mr G of our conversation earlier in the week RE: Support being provided from MDT to access community dols application to enable discharge. Mr G said that he was aware and would think about it before he makes a decision. I joked that I would have to come and get him and bring him home, and Mr G responded saying he would not do that to me. Mr G was calm and I did not want to press this matter any further with him ahead of scheduled appointment for his BP monitoring. Behaviour - observed behaviour: Mr G started to tell me that the meat at 1SC is all halal and that he is not a Muslim, therefore he will not be eating here again and will not return back to 1SC after his home visit this week. I addressed the issue with the meat with Mr G as there are some factual inaccuracies reported but he quickly moved onto explaining to me that it is taking too long for him to move on from 1SC and insisted that I tell everyone that he is not coming back to 1SC. Mr G continued to repeat phrases such as they will be sorry and when I asked him what he meant he said he would take a knife and cut his own throat from here to there (Gestured) as he has had enough. Consequence - event / activity that happened immediately after the observed behaviour: I spent some time reassuring Mr G and updating him on his case with regards to the community dols. Mr G was very dismissive where as previously he was very amenable and understanding. I asked Mr G if he was confused as we had witnessed this in the past and he was adamant that he had already taken his medication. I check on the electronic medication system and Mr G had not taken his morning medication, he said that that the male nurse had given his meds but it was x 2 female nurses working the night shift. I reassured Mr G that the nurse on shift today was not giving him the wrong medication and encouraged Mr G to take his prescribed medications. I explained each tablet and what they are for and the importance of taking them. Mr G was not agreeable at first and diverted away from the conversation stating that he is going to break the knife box in Kleros road and really hurt someone, he looked at me and said "they better not try me or I will hurt myself" I asked Mr G where his frustration was coming from as the two topics did not seem related. Mr G said he has had enough and that it is taking to long for him to move from 1SC. I reassured Mr G again and reminded him of our conversation yesterday regarding the steps being taken to support his discharge. Mr G was very dismissive and said I better sort it out as its taking to long. Mr G stated that he did not want to return to 1SC again after his planned home visit this week but then later said he would think about it. I redirected Mr G back to the issue regarding his medication and he said he would take his medication. • Consequence - event / activity that happened immediately after the observed behaviour: The nurse reported that Mr G did go upstairs and take his prescribed medication.
